Shanae Ullman, Founder and CEO of Nerdy Diva, is passionate about women empowering women in business and life. Nerdy Diva is a UX consultancy offering enterprise level User Experience (UX) research and design for startups. Shanae brings over a decade of experience in UX research and design from corporate Fortune 500 companies to clients.

A passion for entrepreneurship and the direct need for an agency focused on empowering women and Black designers drove Shanae to build Nerdy Diva. She envisioned Nerdy Diva to be a place where the clients and staff alike would feel connected, supported, and encouraged to create innovative products and services. Nerdy Diva also is committed to service and often partners with organizations to teach design and coding to youth.
